

The Tooth of a Monster

The prehistoric shark Megalodon was the largest predatory fish that ever lived. The 60-foot shark had teeth that could grow to more than 7 inches, and hunted whales in oceans around the world. Color the Megalodon tooth below, which is surrounded by normal sharks teeth, all of which are true to life size.

